Many schools, stores and other institutions (mental) have windows that are held in place by a frame that can be unsecured. Casement windows generally have no locks because of the ratio of the frame. However if the window is slightly open it can be forced open completely by pushing back and forth very violently.

Contrary to popular belief cinder block walls are very easy to break down. Anyone with a sledge hammer can do it. Looking at a cinder block from the top we see a large portion is hollow.

S.F. Inmates Made Big Use of the Phones

Prisoners at the Hall of Justice have bilked a communications company of thousands of dollars by making illegal long-distance telephone calls from the jail, San Francisco sheriff's deputies said yesterday.

At least 12 inmates have accounts of up to 18 phones, he said. Devis said he learned of the illegal calls from MCI, but no suspects have yet been identified.

DOUG AUSTIN'S UNDERGROUND DRUG NEWS

Several years ago, I read a magazine article that said that the common variety of poppy seeds sold in grocery stores were opium poppy seeds from papaver somniferum.

There will come a day when you are looked out of your own house. In the following article I will show a number of interesting ways to get into your own house. I would never dream that you might use this article to break into someone else's home (peep).

The first topic of course is doors. Since this is where a break-in is most likely to occur it is the most heavily protected. One solution to door locks is picking. Always look for an easy lock to pick. Why waste 15 minutes on a super pick proof lock on the front door when there is a lock that you can pick easier than your teeth on the garage?

Another old trick is to remove the hinge pins and pull the door out.

An interesting way to open most pin tumbler locks and wafer locks is to get an automotive dent puller, the type with the sliding hammer (the better the better, 5 lbs.) and sheet metal screw tip.

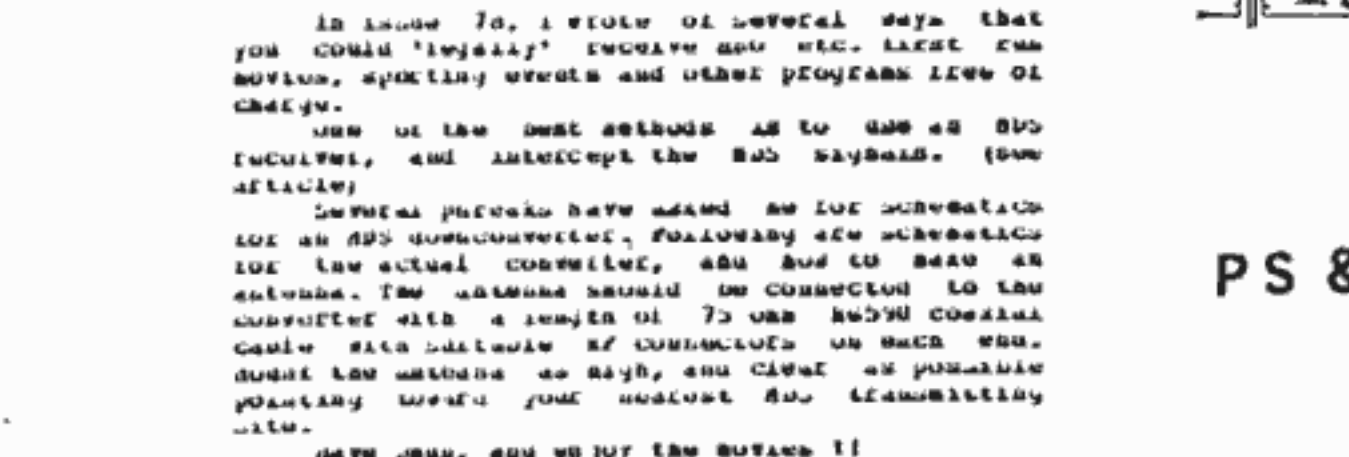

Open the door until the chain is tight. Now reach in and place the tack and rubber band. After the tack and band are in place slide the door closed.

Sometimes it is better to enter through a window. Most houses have storm windows or screens during the summer. The only way to open storm windows is to break them or look and see if the frame can be unscrewed.
